TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 2019

7:30 – 5:30	Registration – Salon II Foyer
7:30 – 8:15	Continental Breakfast and Networking – Charleston Meeting Room
8:15 – 8:30	Welcome and Opening Remarks – Salon I, III, V Douglas Lindholm, COST President & Executive Director, Washington, DC Arthur Parham, COST Chair, Entergy Services, LLC, Woodlands, TX Charles Drury, COST Vice-President/Chief Operating Officer, Washington, DC
8:30 – 10:00	Wayfair – Interactive Panel Discussion on Its Implications and the States' Reactions – Salon I, III, V The Wayfair decision handed down last June by the U.S. Supreme Court has serious ramifications. The states have not been shy over the past seven months in their reaction to the Wayfair decision—both administratively and via legislation. A panel of leading experts in this area will provide their analysis of the case, explain how the states have reacted, and provide predictions of what will evolve in the future. This thought-provoking session will include interaction from the attendees and is the perfect session to kick off a successful and informative COST Sales Tax Conference. Moderator: Karl Frieden, COST, Washington, DC

	Speakers: Loren Chumley, KPMG*, Nashville, TN Rick Heller, Deloitte*, Parsippany, NJ Kevin Herzberg, Grant Thornton*, Dallas, TX Stephen Long, Baker & McKenzie*, Dallas, TX Marc Simonetti, Pillsbury Winthrop Shaw Pittman*, New York, NY Eric Tresh, Eversheds Sutherland (US)*, Atlanta, GA
10:00 – 10:15	Refreshment Break & Networking – Salon II Foyer
10:15 – 11:05	Choice of 3 Breakouts Best Practices for Handling Sales Tax Exemptions and Direct Payment Permits – Salon II The speakers in this session will discuss best practices for handling the documentation and recordkeeping for exemptions and direct pay permits. Among other aspects, the speakers will discuss organizing the documentation the provides a paper trail and supports sales tax exemptions and manages direct pay permits. Speakers: Nicole Johnson, Morrison & Foerster*, New York, NY Jeff McGhehey, The Home Depot, Atlanta, GA Kathy Neggers, PwC*, Fort Myers, FL Taming Local Taxes by Enforcing State and Federal Constitutional Constraints – Salon IV Local level tax jurisdictions are subject to the same federal limitations as state tax laws. In addition, there are important state constitutional limitations which the locals sometimes try to ignore. This session will cover the application of federal and state constitutional limitations to local taxes and discuss controversies related to locally administered taxes. Speakers: Maria Todorova, Eversheds Sutherland (US), Atlanta, GA Randy Varner, McNeese Wallace & Nurick, Harrisburg, PA Hot Topics – East of the Mississippi – Salon I, III, V This session will cover litigation and legislative issues east of the Mississippi River. If you have extensive operations east of the Mississippi, this session is designed to keep you up to date and will help keep you out of trouble—"you will be in "the know" with what's going on east of the Mississippi. Speakers: John Fletcher, Jones Walker*, Jackson, MS Jennifer Jensen, PwC*, Washington, DC
11:10 – 12:00	Choice of 3 Breakouts Penalties, Penalties, Penalties – Are There Ways to Mitigate Them? – Salon I, III, V It's no secret that state tax administrators are getting tougher on imposing penalties and are more reluctant to abate penalties. This session will explain ways to avoid penalties and tips to reduce and/or eliminate penalties. Speakers: Mitchell Newmark, Morrison & Foerster*, New York, NY Mark Sommer, Frost Brown Todd*, Louisville, KY Protecting Privacy w/Filing & Registration Requirements – How Much Information is Too Much? – Salon II The panelists in this session will discuss the states' increasing attempts to obtain officers' and employees' personal information as part of the filing and registration process. Is the information necessary and is it really legally required? Are there ways to avoid providing the information? The panelists will discuss these issues as well as discussing states' attempts to impose corporate officer and personal liability for unpaid transaction taxes. Whether the exposure is on you or your boss, or the boss's boss, this session will guide you through the maze of complicated state laws to collect information, including some new troublesome methods to collect "delinquent" taxes (which sometimes are not delinquent). Speakers: Michael Tedesco, Baker & McKenzie*, New York, NY Jennifer White, Reed Smith*, New York, NY ASC 450 – When Did You Last Review Your Reserves? – Salon IV Given the impact of Wayfair, has your company conducted a comprehensive review of its financial reserves? Wayfair's impact is being felt in a lot of situations and the combination of Wayfair's potential nexus change and the requirements of ASC 450 (former FAS 5) is one of those situations. This session will guide you through the best practices for setting, or resetting, financial reserves.

	Speakers: Marc Grossman, Crowe*, Atlanta, GA Sherry Lam, Grant Thornton*, Miami, FL
12:00 – 1:00	Lunch & Networking – Charleston Meeting Room
1:00 – 2:10	Choice of 3 Breakouts What is the Future of Sales Tax Post-Wayfair? – Salon I, III, V Much of the attention post-Wayfair has been directed at the impact on small and medium-sized internet sellers who are collecting and reporting the states’ sales/use taxes. However, Wayfair will require all organizations, regardless of size, to rethink and rework how they conduct business to properly and efficiently collect and remit sales/use taxes. While many aspects of Wayfair are covered in the general session, the attendees in this session will gain insight into the unique business impacts Wayfair will have on large multinational business structures (and businesses with simpler structures). Issues with retroactivity, economic nexus, and enforcement of conflicting jurisdictional policies will be addressed in this session, along with issues such as gaps in reporting technology, record retention, matrix development, and invoicing and appropriate line item billing to comply with all applicable jurisdictions. Speakers: Mark Loyd, Bingham Greenebaum Doll*, Louisville, KY Robert Peters, Duff & Phelps*, Chicago, IL Planning Tips to Address Mergers, Acquisitions and Divestiture Transactions – Salon II Mergers, acquisitions, and divestitures can create a lot of complicated tax issues, in addition to all the emotional issues they create. The speakers in this session will explain planning tips to guide you through a process to help reduce sales and use tax (and other transaction tax) problems faced when dealing with one of these M.A.D. transactions. Attending this session will allow you to avoid those nasty nightmares of wondering if all the issues were addressed. Speakers: Scott Kocienski, Dykema Gossett*, Bloomfield Hills, MI Kelvin Lawrence, Baker & Hostetler*, Columbus, OH Dan Schulder, Cozen O’Connor*, Harrisburg, PA Making the Most Out of Credits and Incentives – Salon IV This session will cover the steps you need to take to make you aware of all transaction tax incentives that are available and ways to make some available based on changes business operations. Additionally, tips on how to best comply, including documentation to support compliance, with a credit or incentive will be covered. Lastly, if your forecast did not meet a requirement, best practices to deal with those compliance issues will be covered. Speakers: Robert Calafell, RSM US*, Philadelphia, PA Christopher Grissom, Bradley Arant Boult Cummings*, Birmingham, AL Christopher Wilson, Waller Lansden Dortch & Davis*, Nashville, TN
2:20 – 3:30	Choice of 3 Breakouts Hot Topics – West of the Mississippi – Salon I, III, V This session will cover litigation and legislative issues west of the Mississippi River. If you have extensive operations west of the Mississippi, this session is designed to keep you up to date and will help keep you out of trouble—you will be in “the know” for all the important transaction tax issues west of the Mississippi. Speakers: Kirk Lyda, Jones Day*, Dallas, TX Curtis Osterloh, Scott, Douglass & McConnico*, Austin, TX Timothy Van Valen, Askew & Mazel*, Albuquerque, NM Tax Implications When Using & Accepting Cryptocurrency – Should I Care? – Salon II This session will first explain what cryptocurrency is and the different formats it can take. Next, the speakers will guide you through the tax issues faced when using and/or accepting cryptocurrency and how to stay out of trouble if you start using/accepting cryptocurrency. Speakers: Will Ault, Crowe*, New York, NY Joel Waterfield, Grant Thornton*, McLean, VA Status of the Streamlined Sales Tax Project in the Post-Wayfair World – Salon IV Over the last couple of years questions over the importance and relevance of the Streamlined Sales Tax Project have been raised by almost all the attendees at the COST Sales Tax Conference. This session will

	cover issues the Streamlined Sales Tax Governing Board is working on post-Wayfair to stay relevant and will discuss its future in attempting to simplify and provide additional uniformity to the states' sales and use taxes. Speakers: Craig Johnson, Streamlined Sales Tax Governing Board, Westby, WI Carolynn Kranz, Industry Sales Tax Solutions*, Washington, DC Fred Nicely, COST, Washington, DC Patrick Reynolds, COST, Washington, DC

What can we do to improve the “F” graded states (Colorado, Louisiana, and New Mexico) and reduce the states’ taxes on business inputs? Speakers: Karl Frieden, COST, Washington, DC Fred Nicely, COST, Washington, DC Pat Reynolds, COST, Washington, DC
11:10 – 11:30	Navigating COST’s Website & Resources – Focus on Transaction Taxes – Salon I, III, V This session will cover COST’s website and ways to navigate it to provide you with the information you need. COST directory, forums, testimony, studies, calendar of events, etc. will be covered. Also, COST’s legislative and legal advocacy efforts will be discussed. Speakers: Charles Drury, COST, Washington, DC Doug Lindholm, COST, Washington, DC
11:35 – 12:35	Choice of 3 Breakouts
	Effective Ways to Manage Gross Receipts Taxes – Salon II While gross receipts can appear to be simple, the definition of taxable gross receipt and how it is sourced to a state (or local jurisdiction) can quickly make a complicated mess to comply with. This session will cover ways to effectively and efficiently deal with gross receipts taxes. Speakers: Gregg Barton, Perkins Coie*, Seattle, WA David Froling, Vorys, Sater, Seymour and Pease*, Columbus, OH
	Sampling – Make Sure it is Appropriately Used on Audit and Refunds – Salon I, III, V Block sampling, statistical sampling, make it up as you go sampling – the different types of sampling used by the states and ways to make sure sampling is appropriately used in an audit will be covered in this session. Additionally, when tax is overpaid, sampling may also be an option to obtain a refund. The speakers in this session will bring you up to date on the latest developments in the sampling arena and provide ideas and techniques to achieve the best results. Speakers: Roger Pfaffenberger, Ryan*, Dallas, TX Bradley Tomlinson, Zaino Hall & Farrin*, Columbus, OH
	Navigating Federal Legislation – What’s Out There and What Might be Enacted? – Salon IV Post-Wayfair (and even pre-Wayfair) federal legislation has been introduced in Congress that would affect state taxation. Some legislation is very transaction specific, e.g., the Marketplace Fairness Act, others deal with business activity taxes (e.g., Business Activity Tax Simplification Act), and still others are targeted towards specific issues (e.g., Digital Goods and Services Act). The speakers in this session will provide an overview of these bills, discuss the issues involved, and handicap the odds of legislation passing in the 116th Congress. Moderator: Deborah Bierbaum, AT&T Services, Inc., Bedminster, NJ Speakers: Annabelle Canning, Capitol Tax Partners, Washington, DC Aziza Farooki, COST, Washington, DC
12:35 – 1:35	Lunch & Networking – Charleston Meeting Room
1:35 – 2:35	Choice of 3 Breakouts
	Taxation of Mixed Transactions and the True Object Test and Bundled Transactions – Salon II The speakers in this session will discuss the taxability of mixed transactions and contracts, especially large projects that involve multiple types of services, technology and products, and how individual items are analyzed in conjunction with the true object test and the impact on taxability and sourcing. Speakers: Peter Larsen, Akerman*, Jacksonville, FL Michael Wasser, EY*, Washington, DC

	Telling the Story - Effective Audit Advocacy – Salon IV To convince an auditor to strike a proposed assessment on a contested transaction, you need to provide more than just a copy of an invoice. At a minimum, you should enhance your advocacy by presenting supporting evidence such as photographs, business records, process diagrams, and affidavits. In this session, the speakers will explore ways to present such evidence in a clear and compelling manner. They’ll also explore how data analytics and multimedia platforms can be used to educate and convince auditors of your right to relief on contested transactions. Speakers: David Gutowski, Reed Smith*, Philadelphia, PA Mark Richards, Ice Miller*, Indianapolis, IN
	Digital Goods, Digital Services, Cloud Computing - Demystifying These Concepts – Salon I, III, V Okay, you have likely heard a presentation before on digital goods and services and the cloud computing world—however, you are not alone if you are still trying to figure it all out. This session will demystify these issues by explaining what they are and why they create tax issues. The problem states will be highlighted and attempts to enact federal legislation to address concerns about state attempts to tax the cloud will be addressed by the presenters. Speakers: Christine Hanhausen, Reed Smith*, Philadelphia, PA Kathy Saxton, Deloitte*, Atlanta, GA
2:45 – 3:45	Choice of 3 Breakouts
	2019 Transaction Tax Issue of the Year? Developments in Online Marketplace Legislation – Salon II Some states have already passed legislation and others are exploring enacting legislation to require marketplace facilitators to collect and remit the states sales taxes. And, some are using consignment and other laws to try and enforce collection. The efforts of the MTC and other organizations to identify with who is the seller (or sellers) required to collect the sales taxes will be covered. The different strategies states are using to regulate online marketplaces will be addressed in detail. Speakers: Jonathan Feldman, Eversheds Sutherland (US), Atlanta, GA Andy Yates, Alston & Bird, Atlanta, GA
	Taking the Headache Out of Filing and Proving Transactional Tax Refund Claims – Salon IV The states are eager to process you tax payments but a little less receptive when you file a refund claim to get back an illegal or erroneous tax payment. This session will guide you through the minefields, and help you avoid (to the extent possible) problematic and burdensome documentation and audit requests from state revenue agencies questioning a refund. Speakers: Jaye Calhoun, Kean Miller*, New Orleans, LA Jonathan Jordan, DuCharme McMillen & Associates*, Atlanta, GA
	The 2019 Bloomberg Tax Survey of State Tax Departments: Expectations and Planning Opportunities – Salon I, III, V This session will preview results from the 2019 Bloomberg Tax Survey of State Tax Departments regarding sales tax nexus policy. The discussion will focus on state responses to issues that have arisen since the ruling in Wayfair, including retroactivity, economic nexus thresholds, collection obligations for marketplace facilitators, and nexus for small marketplace sellers. We’ll take a big picture look at emerging trends in the new sales tax nexus era and shed light on sound practices for nexus and sales tax collection planning. Moderator: Lauren Colandreo, Bloomberg Tax, Arlington, VA Speakers: Fred Nicely, COST, Washington, DC Leah Robinson, Mayer Brown*, New York, NY Marilyn Wethekam, Horwood Marcus & Berk*, Chicago, IL
3:45 – 4:00	Refreshment Break & Networking – Salon II Foyer

4:00 – 5:15	Choice of 3 Breakouts Use of Bot-Based Technology – Salon I, III, V The panelists in this session will discuss what tax professionals need to know about emerging technologies and how they are altering the ways business is conducted. These “problems” create “opportunities” for tax departments – including the use of innovative technologies, such as “bots.” The panelists will be encouraging audience participation as they consider what’s actually working to automate routine tax functions and manage data. Speakers: Erin Kirsch, EY*, Atlanta, GA
	Unclaimed Property Update – Salon II This session will focus on recent significant developments in the unclaimed property arena, including the use of estimation in unclaimed property audits, state attempts to use unclaimed property laws to expand the nature of the obligation to the creditor, the escheatment of foreign-owned property, and whether federal common law is applicable only to disputes between states. The speakers will also discuss recent legislation, including the Revised Uniform Unclaimed Property Act and the ABA Model Unclaimed Property Act. Speakers: Jeff Henshall, Ryan*, Atlanta, GA Patrick Reynolds, COST, Washington, DC
	Going Global - How to Comply With VATs – Salon IV Businesses today are global and rarely operating in a single country. This session will explain the value-added-tax (VAT) structure and discuss the differences between and the pros and cons of VATs and sales taxes. This session will also explore U.S.-based businesses’ requirements to register for other countries’ VATs and how to best administer those taxes from within the US. After this session, you will know when a business is required to register and collect a VAT in a foreign country (the rules often differ from the US “substantial nexus” requirement) Speakers: Frank Sangster, KPMG*, Philadelphia, PA Diane Yetter, Yetter*, Chicago, IL
